I'm a pretty big blues fan, I don't listen much to the new age blues or rock. I'm kind of partial to the older blues, like guitarists Stevie Ray Vaughan or Eric Clapton. But, I have heard John Mayer play and he is one talented guitar player. After surfing the web one night, I found that he actually owns a Le Mans Ford GT. I thought this was pretty cool, I'm glad he chose American Muscle over a foreign sports car. I provided a few photos of him and his Ford GT filling up at that gas station. Boy does his Ford GT look sharp. I'm sure he loves cruising around town in it!
